Additional Information:

Visit our website inlingua-basel.ch for more information or call us any time to ask.

To see if we have a group suitable for your level and schedule, please arrange an appointment with one of our customer consultants. Your level will be tested and your questions answered. It goes without saying that the consultation and testing are free of charge and non-binding.

You are welcome to join an existing course, if your level is right for the group, or wait for a new course in planning. Courses can only begin once the minimum number of participants has been reached.
